1971-72 Book Club Discussions

THE LAST 3 IN THE SERIES

WHEN will the U.S. get out of Vietnam?

HOW IS IT that industrial workers are forced into unsafe factories in order to make a living?

WHY are women treated as second class human beings?

These questions, and many more like them begin to be answered when we closely examine and study the common thread that runs through each — that of social injustice.

Control, Conflict and Change is a contemporary education program designed to up-date your understanding of the social issues at hand and how they came to be.

Specially selected books will be forwarded to you one month in advance of the discussion seminars which will take place at the CENTRAL METHODIST CHURCH, 23 WEST ADAMS, DETROIT. 7:30 pm

Books will be sold at a price only slightly above our cost (to cover operating expenses) remaining still a discount to you. An annual enrollment fee of $2.00 will cover the cost of preliminary handling and mailing expenses.
